SULLIVAN DODGING TENNESSEE OFFICERS.

Morgansville, Ga., Sept. 3 .- At 6 o'clock this morning, while the mists hung low on the Cumberland knobs and while few were awake on the John L. Sullivan special, the train stopped at Caldale, Tenn. No one but the watchman on the road was there. quiet little man got aboard the Sullivan car at the rear platform. He parted the bell-rope, and the balance of the train, the big baggage car and the champion's coach, were pulled out on a track siding, where they lay while another engine was backed down and attached to the main train, which pulled out and away at 6 o'clock. Ten minutes after, the Sullivan car ran on the main track, and started on after the other cars of the train. This separation oc curred 250 miles south of Cincinnati, and twenty-three niles below the northern border of Tennessee. purpose of the manoeuvre was to avoid the possibility of an arrest or detention in the State that one caused Sullivan so much trouble. Approaching the cutskirts of Chattanooga, the train proper ran over the main line into the city station. The Sullivan car, however, was diverted as it came through and ran through the outskirts toward Loohout Mountain and away into the opening again.

LARGE FRAUDS IN IRON HALL ACCOUNTS.

THE BOOKS PADDED BY FAISE ENTRIES OF OVER $100,000.

were made to day at the hearing of the motion for the ousting of A. E. Stockwell from his place as assignee of the Mutual Banking Surety Trust and Safe Deposit Company, and the appointment of a receiver for that institution. The story brought out by the witnesses this morning is in brief that during February and March, 1891, and March and April, 1892, the books showed that the Iron Hall accounts in the bank were padded by various false entries, involving large sums of money, considerably above $100,000. James H. Eckersley, the first witness examined to day, said he was an officer of the Iron Hall "in name only." The copy of the agreement was shown him. in which the supreme officers asserted "that they had urgently requested and solicited M. C. Davis, Supreme Cashier of the Order of the Iron Hall, to advance Troy, Sept. 3.—The Troy and Providence teams played a finely contested game to-day, the home nine winning is through superior batting. The score:

2000,000, " and which forms the nucleus of the whole proceeding. He admitted having signed it on April 8 to protect Cashier Davis, who showed him a statement setting forth the contest.

C. H. Peart, who was a bookkeeper of the Mutual Banking Company, testified. Mr. Hawkins, counsel for the Indianapolis receiver, directed his attention to a number of deposits during January, 1891, as follows: $3,250.50, $5,345, $3,009.87, $5,742 13, $13,867 21, $4,324 90, $2,327 85 and $901.05. These figures appeared at the end of the fist of deposits for the month, and the witness said that they must have been transferred from the other books of the bank, as he did not know where else he could get them, and as he made all entries in the demand ledger. Mr. Hawkins called the witness's attention to the fact that the monthly account for January, 1891, recovered yesterday, being hauled out of the well at showed a balance of $191.32174 to the credit of the Order of the Iron Hall, and that the next state ment, beginning February 2, 1891, starts off with the At Central Park the St. George's Athletic Club fact that there is a balance to the credit of the played a full two innings game with the South Brook. Order of the Iron Hall of $137,600 63 with a difference of some $53,000 between the two.

Mr. Hawkins then submitted to the witness the statement for March and April, 1892, which showed a balance in favor of supreme Cashier Davis on April 30, of $440,750 29. H esaid he could remember no other credit. Mr. Hawkins directed the witness's attention to an entry made at the end of this account marked "special quote," which swelled the account by $84,143 89. There was nothing which showed this special debit. The witness was next shown the statement covering the period from April 30 to May 3 last, at the end of which was another entry of a "special quote" deposit for $54,143 89. The witness said he knew nothing about that entry.

King-ton G. Whelen, expert accountant, was introduced to prove that the numerous small deposits mentioned above came into the bank in the shape of securities, a shortage of $53,000 thus being accounted

AN EXCITING GAME OF LACROSSE.

At the Manhattan Field yesterday afternoon the lacrosse teams of the Staten Laland Athletic Club and the Manhattan At Tetel Club met for the second time.

The witness further testified that on March 30 there to the credit of the Iron Hall in the bank $444, 700 77, and on August 31, $429,301 21; local branches of the Iron Hall, $44,340 52, making a total of Iron Hall and its branches' deposits about $473,000. The total amount of deposits in the bank at that date, including these figures, was $535,807 55.

Charles Carr, William Sweetingham and Lawrence Costigan, ballot box stuffers in the Eighth Precinct, IVth District, had prepared their affidavtis to be presented to the court yesterday proclaiming the in-nocence of Richard De Huybetter, their sentenced confederate. This was done. Senator Hudspeth read such affidavits in the Court of General Sessions yesterday. They set forth that Carr, Sweetingham and Costigan were able guilty of the frauds in the Eighth Precinct, and that De Huybetter had no knowledge of them. The affidavits were properly sworn to by arr, Sweetingham and Costigan, and attached to them was one made by Do Huybetter. He swore that he pleaded non vult because he had been advised to do so, for the frands of the others would convict him, although he was innocent. He pleaded non valt because he was told it would save him from going to state Prison. He made the plea by advice of his lawyer. Senator Hudspeth said that he knew of his own knowledge that the affidavit of De Huybetter was true.

ELDORADO HOLDS IIS OWN.

Good weather has favored Eldorado in the last week, and in consequence the attendance has been A substantial reason for the continued properity of that resort is the fact that there is an evident effort on the part of the management to please the public. Although "Egypt Through Centuries" was put on at great cost and was a success from the out set, they continued to change the play, cutting here and adding there, until now it does not look like the same production. All this work has been to improve and beautify the scenes and dances and tableaus. The and beautify the scenes and dances and tasteaus. In person who sought the country or the seaside early in the spring is now a daily visitor at this place. Throngs promenade the pretty walks of the park every after-noon, dine at the restalment, and later on look in at noon, dine at the restalment, and later on took in at the grent stage as centuries of Egypt roll by with the dazzling marches, brilliant seenes and multitudinous and artistic ballets. Foreigners, too, have become acquainted with its ments and are numerous and frequent visitors. They say it reminds them of Paris and Berlin, but acknowledge that they have nothing to compare with it in size, location or natural beauty. The usual operatic concert will be given this afternoon and evening, in which a number of prominent singers will take part, besides Theodore Hoch, the cornetist, and the Eldorado band of sixty. cent of the land is ready for seeding, when win being in thirty days.

Reports from South Dakota show that fully three-fourths of the spring wheat is in shock or stack, and little threshing so far has been done. Harvesting the carly varieties of wheat is now quite general in North Dakota. Wheat is more or less shrunk from the excessive heat. In southern Minnesota farmers are just beginning to thresh. The yield and quality vary greatly. Reports from the Province of Ontario show that there is practically no wheat coming to market, and little is expected for two or three weeks yet. The quantity promises to be the same as last year, but deficient in quality.

Laurel, Del., Sept. 3 (Special).-From Frostburg. Md., comes a story of an encounter with copperhead snakes, resulting in the death of Mrs. Martha Hard castle and her thirteen-year-old daughter, who were gathering berries in the neighboring swamps on Thursday. Mrs. Hardcastle was the first victim, the reptile sinking its fangs deep into her thigh. woman's screams brought to her assistance her daughter, who also received the fatal sting. Both died in agony, four hours later. The copperhead makes are unusually numerous this year in that district, which is in the western part of Wicomoc County, near the bay. This is the only place on the penineula where rattlers and other poisonous snakes are found.
